

Your mobile costs under control

Our Vodafone Red Enterprise Bundles

Boosting the productivity of your global workforce

Mobility can be a powerful tool for increasing employee productivity and business agility. But the costs associated with mobility can be unpredictable. Each employee uses voice and data differently, and often their usage can fluctuate dramatically from month-to-month. Efficient management of individual voice and data usage can be very time-consuming for companies.

How can you embrace the benefits of the latest technology and give employees the freedom to work on their preferred device securely and flexibly whilst remaining in control of the costs?

Vodafone Red Enterprise Bundles simplifies your mobility strategy by offering a plan that assures predictability and control over your voice and data costs. This service gives you single pools of minutes and gigabytes, shared across all employees, for a fixed price each and every month.

How does it work?

Creating your initial tailored bundle

- Domestic, international & roaming minutes & MBs pooled across all users within a country
- The initial bundle and price are tailored to your company-wide usage profile
- Usage is reviewed regularly with updated costs applied if usage has changed

Usage reviewed regularly

- If pooled usage during the review period has changed from the initial pool in any category, a pre-agreed price is charged
- The monthly fees are automatically adjusted for the next usage review period with no retrospective charges applied
- Usage is reset to the initial pool size at the start of every review period

Key benefits

Simplicity

- A single voice tariff and a single data tariff with a simple monthly fee per user
- Easy to manage with low tariff administration required

Efficiency

- The bundle size is tailored to your company-wide usage profile
- Shared voice and data usage within a company-wide bundle eliminates wasted allowances and overage charges

Cost predictability

- All users within the bundle pay the same
- Prices are fixed during the usage review period with no retrospective charging

Worry-free roaming

- Roaming usage allowances for voice and data are automatically built into your bundle
- Domestic and European usage across 52 destinations are combined with unlimited voice and SMS

Freedom to roam across the world

Reporting solutions included with the tariff

Vodafone Telecom Reporting

For the enterprise

A simple usage and analytics tool that gives you visibility on voice and data usage, even across multiple cost centres.

Vodafone Usage Manager

For the employee

This simple downloadable app lets end users monitor their own voice and data usage at home and abroad quickly and easily.
