

Tailor-made infrastructure

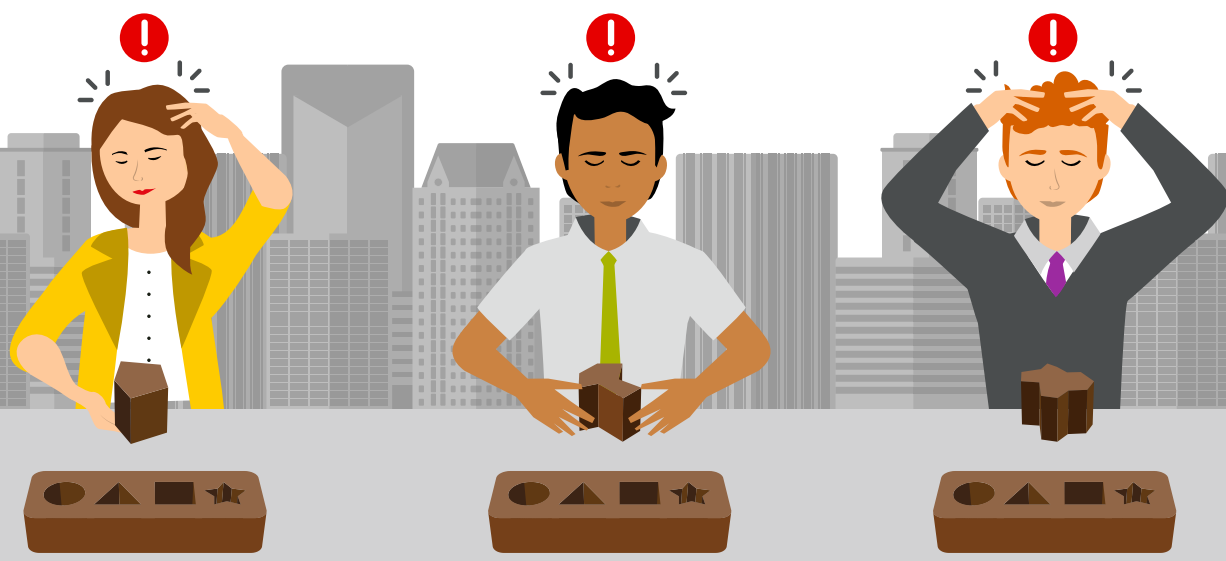

One size doesn't always fit all

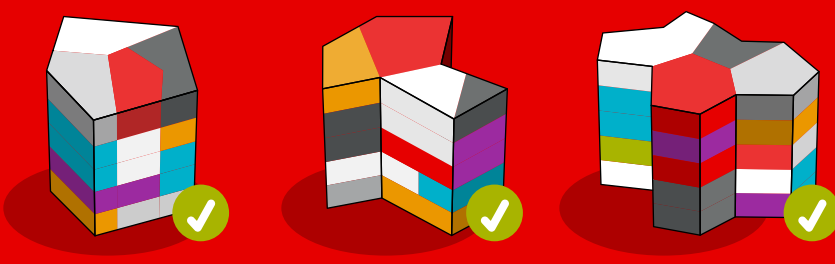

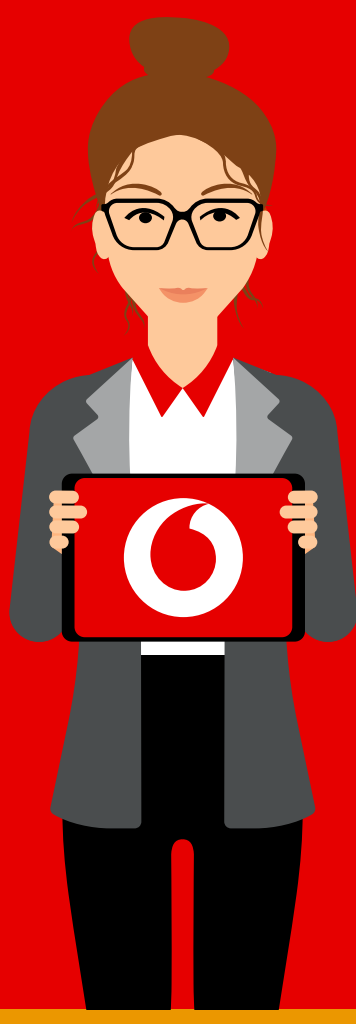

IT leaders are facing a range of challenges

While there are plenty of cloud solutions on the market that are easy to use, they might not offer the infrastructure, security or efficiency that your business and applications really need.

Build a hassle-free and modular infrastructure to suit your needs

At Vodafone we can quickly build you a tailored, modular solution, with building blocks of dedicated and shared infrastructure to make even the complex really simple.

With a fully managed support model you'll have an extended team, taking away the hassle for your business, while you control your cost model.

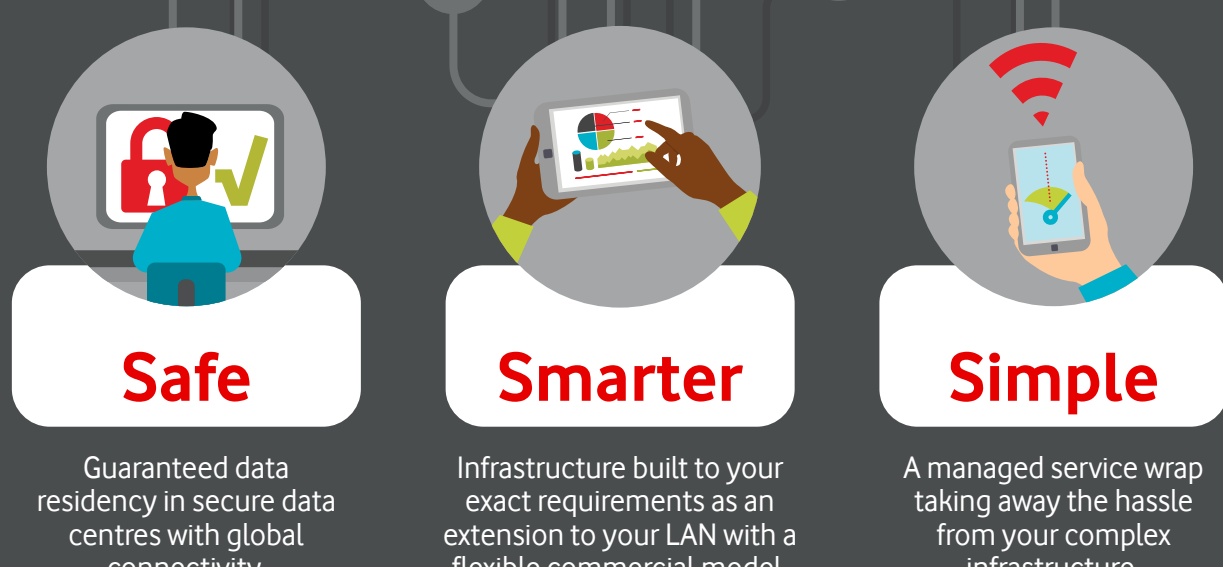

We'll manage your complexity end-to-end: Design → Migration → In-life

We can deliver the following

- Flexible infrastructure fitting your needs now and in the future
- A platform designed to deliver complex applications
- The utmost security and resilience
- Storage and backup to offer you a tiered data model
- The ability to extend your LAN into our secure Data Centres
- The ability to combine with Vodafone Cloud Services when you are ready
- Connection to Vodafone's global network with over 1M km fibre
- A flexible financial model balancing OpEx and CapEx
